EDITORIAL

Fiona writes:

Welcome to the August 2012 issue of Hawkesbury Parish News.

I'm typing this, sitting on a picnic bench outside a beach café on the Pembrokeshire coast — a break at long last! Not only am I making the most of the sunshine, but also the café's free wifi connection to pick up all the parish mag emails. Unfortunately, the only way I can see the screen outdoors is to put my laptop inside a large shopping bag and stick my head inside. Despite the curious and amused looks from passers-by and waitresses alike, it does the trick! You wouldn't believe some of the bizarre things required to get the mag out some months!

Arriving back from west Wales with a suntan has prompted much mirth, but we definitely enjoyed much better weather than expected and had a fantastic week of walks on the beach with the dog, great local food and a welcome catch-up on sleep! Now I feel ready for all that August brings in Hawkesbury! First comes the 23rd Hawkesbury Open Golf Championship on the 4th, with banter and laughter all day, along with the money raised going to a worth cause. The 127th Hawkesbury Show takes place on the 25th and given the trying weather conditions this year, will be a challenge for any entrant! If in doubt, go for it and enter whatever you have — this year you could just be lucky! This year's Sunday Evening in the Marquee should also be a fantastic family night out. The line-up includes a local Hawkesbury band, The Mangledwurzels (the Wurzels tribute band) and Pop of Ages the ultimate party band, to dance the night away! Full details are in this issue — hope to see you all there!

Deadline for copy for the September edition is 15th August 2012.

Please send it in as early as you can!

Hawkesbury CE VC Primary School

My name is Katie Merritt and I am a year six student at Hawkesbury Primary School. I have been picked out of a hat to be Head teacher for the day. I am going to give you a report of the month.

Hawkesbury Show

All of our classes have been creating pieces of art work and handwriting for the Hawkesbury Show. Robin class have been doing painting. The other classes are doing something different. Everyone at Hawkesbury cannot wait for the Hawkesbury show!

Head for the day

I was very proud to be 'Head for the Day', everyone was so nice to me and called me Miss Merritt; it was so fun! The only problem was I had so much work to do. First I had to do a Learning Walk with 2 governors, Mr O'Brien and Mrs Bendry, organise the whole years house points, then go out to play, then type the Parish Magazine article, then meeting with the Chair of Governors and it goes on!

Sports day

Mrs Lewis must have had a senior moment when she wrote about Sports Day in last months' magazine because unfortunately Sports day has been cancelled twice because of the weather. Sports day not being on has made lots of children sad because everyone at Hawkesbury loves sports day especially some of our really athletic children. However we have had a brilliant term visiting other schools for our Cotswold Cluster Olympic games.

Lower Woods

Hawk class had a great fun day out in Lower Woods. We had instructors, they were called Ellie and Julie. Ellie and Julie did a brilliant job of explaining and telling us about Lower Woods and all the wildlife and nature there. They told us all about the past and the hopes for the future. We have created leaflets and information pages that will be displayed at the Hawkesbury Show.

Activity week

Hawk class recently visited Viney Hill in the Forest of Dean. We did lots of cool activities like crate stacking, canoeing, wild walks and low ropes. It was lovely staying there; the bedrooms were well looked after and they had a little bonfire place where we toasted marshmallows.

Leavers service

The year six leavers service was very emotional for everyone we had the whole hall in tears! Hawkesbury is a great school and that is why we will miss them very much it is very sad to say goodbye but we are all looking forward to our bigger school.

We are nearing the end of the summer term at Hawkesbury Preschool, and what a successful year it has been. We welcomed Miranda to our team in April; Gemma had a beautiful baby girl and we are delighted to welcome so many new faces to our Pre-school. Thank you so much to all our playleaders for their hard work and commitment over the past year

We may not have had the opportunity to spend many days in the park but this hasn't dampened the children's spirit. They have been busy building a campsite indoors complete with sleeping bags and a pretend campfire. Pre-school sports day was a huge success. The children had great fun and the parents were invited to join us for a picnic at the end of the session. At the end of term we organised a pre-school trip to Slimbridge and all the children agreed it was a great day out.

This term, those starting school in September have joined the pupils at Hawkesbury Primary school for their first cooked school lunch and experienced playtime in the school playground. The children all agreed that school lunches were 'yummy!' It was wonderful to see how confident and happy the new starters were in the larger school environment, having become familiarised with 'big school' from our frequent trips to use the gym, playground and garden area.

This term we have been selling ice creams on Fridays after school (with optional flake) at the playground next to the village hall. We also have our fantastic Family Supper Recipe Books AVAILABLE NOW! They are £3 each OR bargain special offer - two for £5!

It just remains for us to say goodbye and good luck to all the children who are leaving to start school in September.

All four are busy raising funds for their World Challenge trips this year. As part of their fundraising, they will have a stall at Hawkesbury Show. Please go along and support their efforts on the day!

NEWS FROM HAWKESBURY PRIMARY SCHOOL PTA

A big thank you to everyone who came along to the PTA Summer Fair last month. We're still working out what the profit was, but we are sure that everyone who came had a great time, despite the weather. It was a great way to finish a fun and busy year of fundraising events, every one of which has benefited every child in our wonderful village school.

We're now looking forward to welcoming all the new children (and their parents and carers!) in September. We hope you will all want to get involved with the PTA. Our events are a great way to get to know the school better and to meet other parents too – and are meetings are good fun too!

Kicking off the new term will be our Annual General Meeting on Tuesday 18th September at 8pm. Venue details will be announced at the start of term, but put the date in your diary now and plan to join us for a relaxing social evening getting to know each other and dreaming up ideas for the new school year.

And in the meantime, have a great summer holiday!

THE CURSE OF GUIDE-A-PHOBIA

By Alan C. Porter

I feel the time has come for me to step out of the closet and reveal my shameful secret. I am or was a closet guide-a-phobic, but no longer, confession frees the soul and I can now walk with my head held high.

I tried looking up guide-a-phobia in the dictionary, but it doesn't appear to exist so I could be the first. What is it? I hear you say. It's a chronic fear of guided tours!

I've dodged and avoided such wordy, finger pointing lectures all over the world and in National Trust properties up and down the country.

I don't know what causes this condition, but as soon as a well meaning guide starts his or hers' well rehearsed speech, my brain shuts down. Facts flow in one ear and straight out of the other leaving no educational residue to later recall in a moment of erudite conversation.

As soon as the lips part I'm gone like a rat up a drainpipe, metaphorical fingers in ears in case a single sentence of historical fact sends me to sleep.

I prefer to do my own thing, find my own way around with camera in hand looking for shapes and colours without excessive verbosity taking away the magic of the discovery.

It could be that I'm a twerp but am I alone in my "twerpiness." Am I the only guide-a-phobic in the world?

1st Hawkesbury Guides

On the weekend of the 29th June, 12 of our Guides took part in the Malvern Challenge, a fantastic weekend, with a 7 mile activity hike on the Saturday, sports, crafts, entertainment and on the Sunday a brilliant fun fair, organised for Guides and Scouts-nearly 3000 took part!-506 teams in all.

We had 3 teams that entered who were tested, not only on their map reading, first aid and rifle shooting skills, but also how they worked together as a team.

Their results were as follows:

MA Team-41st

MC Team-367th

MB Team-454th

Well done to all of you!

A couple of the girls wanted to share their thoughts of the weekend with you....

"Overall the camp was great. The rides were amazing, I went on the Supersar ride for the first time. The walk killed me, but it was a laugh!"

"We really enjoyed the Malvern Challenge that took place near Cheltenham.

On Saturday we went on a 7 mile hike and along the way completed challenges. It was great. Also the weather was just right!

On Sunday there was a fair ground which was really good fun.

It was an all round amazing weekend!"

THE BEAUFORT BUREAU LTD NEEDS YOU!

The Beaufort Bureau is a community co-operative providing office services based in Hawkesbury Upton

The Beaufort Bureau was founded in 1992 with the help of the Co-operative Development Agency, Bristol. There were many newcomers to the village at that time and one of its main aims was to help women returners back to work. In 1997 Sam Allen, Micheline Munro and Jenny Harris took over as Directors from the original members, who included Claire Axel-Berg, Jane Beeley, Mick Bendeaux, Gill Carey and Alison Sauro.

Since then the Bureau has expanded and has won awards for its work within the community. It has provided a wide range of services to a variety of businesses and individuals within the village as well as to companies throughout S. Glos. and Bristol. Services ranged from photocopying to translation, and in time expanded to include IT training and careers advice and guidance for adults. However, the Beaufort Bureau's friendly and ethical approach has not changed and the present Directors are firm advocates of lifelong learning and its promotion and development within the community.

After fifteen years, the current Directors would like to stand down and pass on the Company to new and enthusiastic members/directors who would be prepared to retain its ethical and community basis yet carry it forward into the twenty first century.

HAWKESBURY GARDENING CLUB

www.hawkesbury-gardening-club.org.uk

Meetings are held at 8pm on the 4th Monday of the month in the Methodist Hall in Back Street.

I'm writing this in mid July when the rain is lashing down like the days of Noah's flood and the wind is unwinding the runner beans as they struggle to climb the canes. It's a good job that we don't rely on our veg patch for all our food because come autumn we would both be as skinny as size 0 fashion models. Yet I recall when Titchmarsh was wittering on about how we should rip up our herbaceous borders and plant cacti because the Met Office was warning that we were soon going to be living in a hot, dry Mediterranean climate. In the 'BBQ summer' I visited Kew Gardens and noted that the plants in their Mediterranean gardens were a bit worse for wear due to the over-liberal rainfall. That went well didn't it? Unfortunately the Met Office continue to get it wrong, as their 3 month outlook on 23 March this year attests - "The forecast for average UK rainfall slightly favours drier than average conditions for April-May-June as a whole, and also slightly favours April being the driest of the 3 months". That also went well didn't it? April was the wettest for 100 years! A well known airline owner once said of the Met Office - "These people can't tell us what the weather will be next Tuesday but they can predict with absolute precision what the global temperature will be in 100 years time. It's a crock of horse's ordure". (Actually it was a little less polite than that). I reckon it's time that the NMO forecasters consulted that guy who foretells the weather by talking to snails or perhaps they should learn to read bones. It's not that the weather would have been any better this year but I might not have bought that all-in-one pink lacy sunsuit.

FYI – In Hawkesbury Upton I recorded rainfall from 1 January to 31 March at 148mm (~6"), 1 April to 14 July at 533mm (~21"). Year 2011 we had 836mm (~33") in total.

Speakers for the near future are:

Monday 24th September - Peter Jones – The Night Garden.

Monday 22nd October - D. Cramp – Wildlife in the Garden.

Monday 26th November – Mr Hargreaves – Gardens of Gloucestershire.

Terry Truebody (01454 238364).

Hawksnest Skate Park Appeal News

Fantastic news - we've just been awarded a £7,000 grant from South Gloucestershire Environmental Body. South Gloucestershire Environmental Body (SGEB) distributes grants from the Harnhill Landfill site, which closed in 2003. It is a joint venture with South Gloucestershire Council; the Board of Directors consists of local councillors and independent volunteers from across the district.

Meetings are quarterly and directors/trustees are assigned to visit and monitor projects receiving grants. SGEB allocates modest funding to community groups wishing to make environmental improvements to public amenities, biodiversity, conservation or heritage projects.

This takes our total so far to an amazing £48,431 - just £7,796 short of our final target (the very specific but untidy number of £56,227!) If you have any ideas of how we can pass this final hurdle, please do send them our way. As ever, all donations and ideas will be very gratefully received.

Here's hoping that it's not long at all now until the children and young people of Hawkesbury Upton can be enjoying their very own skate park.

Show and Tell

Last night I had a terrible nightmare. I was in the marquee at the Hawkesbury Show when I realised I'd forgotten to put in any entries. There I was in a tent full of exhibits and none of them bore my exhibitor number.

Speaking as a past prize winner, this dilemma doesn't bear thinking about. Okay, so most of my prizes have been in dubious categories such as the odd-shaped vegetable (it was a tomato – don't ask!) Our hen's egg entry was also interesting. In our first year of poultry keeping, we assumed that eggs were judged only on size and colour. For weeks we saved our hens' biggest and brownest. We didn't realise they'd be cracking them open. Six week old eggs and a hot show tent are not a good combination.

Bad eggs aside, Hawkesbury Show demonstrates our community at its best, bringing together old and young alike.

And I mean at its best. Judges of unparalleled skill and experience ensure the high quality is maintained. A few years ago, when I was on the Show Committee, I attended a meeting at which the onion judge was present. He'd travelled from afar to share his knowledge. He produced from his pocket a set of silver rings, specifically made to check the size of onions. They'd been passed to him from his father. As he was well into retirement, I reckon the rings had been in use for nearly a century. We were in awe.

But don't let the judges' high standards put you off submitting an entry. The ultimate prize is not the individual's red rosette, but one we can all share: a tent full of produce and crafts, representing just about everyone in the village. So not like my nightmare at all, then.

Happy Show Day, everyone!

Snail fanciers to slug it out at village show

Growers sick of seeing their vegetables devoured by the wet summer's plague of snails and slugs are using the pests to their advantage.

Organisers of the village show in Thruxton, Hants, have added new categories for "largest slug" and "heaviest snail".

John Davies, the organiser said: "Because everything is so wet, everybody's gardens are full of snails." The specimens will be kept well away from the other show categories, which include longest runner bean and biggest marrows.

With the above article in mind, this year has definitely been a very "challenging" year for gardeners and growers.

Simply getting the grass cut has been an art in itself! Playing a waiting game for the grass to dry out enough to cut, but not leaving it long enough for the next downpour to start has become a finely honed skill this summer.

So...when it comes to producing flowers, fruit and veg for Hawkesbury Show 2012, we are all effectively in the same boat. The excess rain, lower temperatures and lack of sunshine will have affected everyone's efforts this year.

All I can say, as a result, is that whatever you have, just enter it. For many years, we have entered whatever produce we have that happens to be ready that week.

Placing our six best runner beans in the correct class and shuffling away rapidly before anyone can compare them to the enormous, poker-straight specimens already on the table has become a skill! This year, we could just have a glimmer of a chance...! If not, our efforts will just go to emphasise how good the other entries are!

And, no matter what the result, I'll still enjoy tucking into a plate of our home-grown veg for tea!

Hawkesbury Show

A few ideas on selection and presentation of entries for the show, hopefully to encourage and help the newcomer to showing.

General

The first priority is to ensure that the entry conforms exactly to the schedule. As the only entrant for the sweet pepper class some years ago, I could reasonably have expected a good result. I didn't win anything because I neglected to put the peppers on a cardboard plate, as required in the schedule, which shows that the simplest omission can result in failure. The entries should be clean and fresh in their appearance, and match up in shape and size. If a particularly good specimen is grown, it has no value as an entry if it doesn't match up with the others in its set. Whilst all judges have their own likes and dislikes (which never match up with one's own unless one wins), they all have the same basic rules to work to.

Fruit and vegetables

The criteria by which these classes are judged, are shape, size, condition, and similarity. Most vegetables need to be washed prior to exhibition, but some fruit and vegetables such as tomatoes and peas have a "bloom" on the skin which is left intact. The roots of most root crops such as parsnips, carrots, beetroot, and turnips are left, but tops are trimmed where the schedule requires. If tomatoes are entered, the calyx should be left intact (this is the star-shaped part that attaches the tomato to the stem), as should the flower on the end of a cucumber if it still remains. For the newcomer to showing, it is often a good idea not to arrive at the tent too early, so that other peoples' presentation can be seen by the new entrant, and a few ideas gained.

Flowers

The major judging criteria are similar for flowers as for fruit and vegetables, i.e., shape, condition and similarity, but naturally there are some other considerations. A flower should be about 80% mature when shown, looking as though it still has some potential, and it should be born in mind that it might stand in its vase of water for 3 or 4 hours, so if it's not in good shape, it won't stand until judging. It is a good idea to cut flowers the night before show, and stand them in water in order that they can have a good drink, and be in tip-top condition. If pom-pom dahlias are to be shown, they have a size restriction, which means they need to be measured after standing all night, as they can have got slightly bigger by morning. When cutting flowers, it should be a priority to think about balance between stem length and flower head size.

The same principles of balance should be considered when setting up flowers in the vase, and if it looks balanced to the competitor, it will probably look the same to the judge. As a final thought, it is always wise to take spare flower as it is very easy to snap a stem when setting up a vase.

Pot plants

Pot plants require different considerations in their preparation for show. The plants should all be given a good watering prior to entry as the show tent can become very warm during the day of show, and plants can easily dry out and flag. Flowering entries should be dead-headed, and debris and damaged foliage should be removed from all pot plants. A light dusting of fresh compost on the surface of the pot can help the appearance considerably and the pot itself should be wiped over before placing on the bench. In selecting the best plant for entry, it should be remembered that a plant will be judged from all sides so the principles of balance are once more important.

In closing, I would ask you all to bear in mind, that without entries there is no show and the newcomer would soon discover that it's much more fun when you are involved

Jack the Hawkesbury Plain Cat

It was sad to hear that Jack, the cat we affectionately called 'The Hawkesbury Plain cat' had died.

He will be remembered for his liking to be around people. He would sit in the bus shelter with us commuters, waiting for the bus, sitting in line, purring and kneading with his paws, just listening to the conversation.

Bette Belding recalls how, on a Remembrance Day service at the war memorial, Jack was there with everyone, listening to the service, just wanting to be there. When it was over, he departed home with everyone else – his duty done.

I remembered him with all the children at the same spot when they were doing their cycling proficiency test. He sat listening to the talk then followed them to the bus shelter to watch!

Jack had a special affinity with Neil and the shop and could always be seen sitting in the window, pleased to see everyone. He became part of the scene, children loved him. The Fox Inn was another venue, he would join patrons, sitting on the seat beside them, purring and kneading as usual. He reminded me of a cat in James Herriot's book of cats, about the cat who loved to go to meetings.

I shall miss this lovely natured black cat, as his owner Lynn will do, but he brought pleasure to a lot of people because of his affectionate nature. At seventeen, his health deteriorated and decisions had to be made – but for the best reasons. RIP little Jack, you'll be thought of a lot by me, a cat lover, always.

Come and join us for another chance to enjoy the fabulous countryside around Hawkesbury. This time we return to Lower Woods. The walk is taking place on Saturday 11th August 2012. If you want a lift to Lower Woods Lodge, please meet at the village hall car park at 10.00 am. Alternatively you can meet us at Lower Woods Lodge car park itself at 10.15 am for a 10.30 am start.

This walk can be muddy and there is one small stream crossing so wellingtons or walking boots are highly advised. Dogs are welcome.

Hawkesbury & Horton WI

President Barbara Harvey welcomed everyone to our July meeting, the last before the summer break, and thanked Judy for hosting the garden party. Barbara drew attention to several walks planned for the month, one of which will be in Bristol and be led by Mark Steeds. An occasion to learn lots about the city we didn't know before!

NFWI AGM:- delegate Betty said amazingly London was hot, even the Albert Hall!

The Resolution: Employment of More Midwives" was passed by a vote of 5,939 in favour and 240 against. A campaign in support of this will now get underway.

Guest speaker at the AGM, Lord Julian Fellowes, writer of Gosford Park and more recently of Downton Abbey said many of his characters were inspired by people he's known. Mrs O'Brien for example has many of his grandmother's characteristics. He said many of the girls he writes about had been brought up for a world that changed dramatically with the First World War. Called upon to do jobs they'd never done before most rose to the challenge. He said if you want to see how the Crawley girls deal with modern times at Downton Abbey, watch again in September.

Our speaker for evening was John Clark who gave us a fascinating insight into treasure hunting. He said the technology for metal detecting didn't change much until the 1960's. Before that it was a cumbersome operation which entailed carrying the equipment in a very heavy rucksack.

Current metal detectors now resembled a grass strimmer in appearance and are much lighter. They come complete with a small computer screen on the front and can detect different types of metal to a depth of eighteen inches. A number is then registered on the screen which serves as an identification of the type of metal underground. Identification of the metal can also be made through the registering of sound. This more simplistic system involves about three different types of bleep.

John got his technical training in REME. and metal detecting started a hobby. However now he also tests equipment for Mine Lab, an Australian Company, one of the forerunners in the field.

John has worked on the Pilgrim Way in Northern Spain where he has unearthed many coins, and also in lakes in France. A lot of his finds are of archaeological importance and a hoard of Roman coins discovered in a wall have gone to a museum.

We were thrilled to see a beautifully crafted Celtic ring which John had unearthed. It had small shards of emerald in it which he said proved it had been made about the time of the Norman Conquest. Apparently the Norman's were first to bring emeralds into the country.

Competition for "A Beachcombing Treasure" was won by Judy Wilkie with a Devil's Claw fossil.

Flower of the Month was won by Christine Gamlin with a penstemon.

Surprisingly, many flowers have been resilient enough to withstand the challenging weather, and at least we haven't had to water them!

The Sunday Crew

It's Sunday again so a crewin' we are
But where are we going is it near... is it far?
The horses are flighty, the rider is stressed
Is this really the way to spend God's day of rest
The truck is full up with horse food and drinks
There are blankets and bottles and three kitchen sinks
The dog is excited, for she's part of the team
Running and chasing and letting off steam
Then Rachael pipes up "Hey where are my crew?"
Adam's made coffee, Jane's shovelling poo
Poor Jane and poor Adam he's doing his best
He can't tow the horse box, he's not passed the test
He's fuelled the truck, Jane's looked at the maps

Adam's made lunch, some ham salad wraps
There's scotch eggs and pork pie the coffee is hot
He was gonna put beer in but thought... better not
But still things aren't right, oh NOW what can be wrong?
It's Charlie, he's crapped in his box, what a pong
The journeys are endless, to get to events
I've stayed in bed this time, I've got more sense
I'll get the report from Jane Monday Morn
When she comes into work with a bruise and a yawn
How did it go I will ask... was it fun?
Just make me a coffee and buy me a bun
Yes it was great, but we were so stressed
That we've come back to work for a jolly good rest

Hawkesbury Local History Society

Tales from the Woods

No meetings for the society this month, but thought we'd give a progress report and issue a plea. Mike and I are well on the way to writing the second part of "A History of Lower Woods Nature Reserve". This will be a very much larger volume than "Part I: The Names" and as such, is taking very much longer to write, with publication date still a long way ahead. Utilising material from over 15 years research, the book will include all aspects of history and management of the woods: from Acts of Parliament to Assarts; Badminton to Bark (oak); Commons to Coppices; Domesday to Drowning (yes, the threat of!); Pershore to Paston; Romans to Royal Forests; Woodwards to Woodbanks, to mention but a few. The story of ownership of Lower Woods will include a detailed history of Horton, woodland life before the Dissolution, transfer of the woods to the Duke of Beaufort (which has resulted in the survival of an invaluable archive of management records) and the acquisition of the woods for a nature reserve by Gloucestershire Wildlife Trust in 1996. We have learned a lot about the activities in Lower Woods during WWII (not to mention the devastation caused by removal of huge amounts of timber for the war-effort) and have had the pleasure of meeting local people who worked in the woods during that time and later.

Now for our plea: We should very much like to include a section focusing on your memories, anecdotes, experiences etc. of Lower Woods or anything you might have heard or been told about them by folk no longer with us. Perhaps we'll call it "Jottings from the Woods" or "Tales of the Woods"? If you have any such 'snippets' (however small or apparently insignificant) please could you tell Barrie Hope (Pool Farm House) or send them to us by e-mail: mikemartin99@aol.com

Photographs would be especially welcome!

Dear Editor,

When I was walking to school last week I didn't see the dog poo and walked in it. It was very smelly and my mum could not get it all off my shoe. My friends did not want to stand next to me all day because they said I smelt.

It was horrible when I sat down on the mat cross legged, I had to take off my shoe, but it left a mark on the floor. My teacher took the shoe and washed it, and cleaned the mat.

My mum said she hoped that I washed my hands after touching the poo on the mat as dog poo carries some dangerous things which could make me poorly and maybe blind. She said that if the teacher had not washed the mat and shoe, then all the pencils and toys I had touched would be carrying the diseases as well.

Please can all readers of the Mag. take note and clear up after their dogs.

As a dog owner, I'm not only so disappointed to read the above letter, but was recently forced to clear up after someone else's dog whilst gardening at the Cricket Club. Someone had allowed their dog to leave a very large deposit right in front of the clubhouse steps.

It was obviously going to be tracked straight into the clubhouse if left where it was, so I felt obliged to bag it and bin it myself, before that happened.

Please ensure that you have bags with you and, as the summer holidays are just starting, please ensure that children are carrying bags, if they are walking the dog over the next few weeks. Ed.

Village Hall Recreation Field

It would be appreciated if in future dog-walkers could place their animals' deposits into the large wheelie bin instead of the smaller bins as these are emptied manually and as I'm sure you will agree, it's not a pleasant task even if the excrement is bagged up.

Many thanks

The Rat

On the morning of Saturday 14th July a large dead rat was outside of 18 Highfields near to the alleyway. 10 steps away from the dog waste bin. On Sunday 15th July I found it decomposing in my walled garden, number 16. Someone had taken the time to pick it up & give it a hefty throw into my garden. As I have two children who play in this garden I am so disappointed that someone put our health at risk.

Our main news this month is to announce the appointment of the Revd Richard Thomson as the new Vicar of the Badminton benefice of churches. He will be living in the new vicarage in Badminton with his wife and five children. The formal recognition of his appointment will take place at his installation at a date to be confirmed (possibly 20th) in September, which will take place at St Mary's, being the largest church in the benefice, and able to accommodate representatives from all the other parishes. All Hawkesbury parishioners are very welcome to join us on this important occasion. Watch this space for confirmation of the date

While calling once again for volunteers to church sit during the summer months (August and September), I want to correct the information I gave in last month's Parish News. We shall open the church only in the afternoons of Saturday and Sunday, between 2pm and 4pm, so please do consider whether you might be able to offer one afternoon during these two months. It is interesting to meet the people who visit the church, to tell them about its history, and the work we've recently done to maintain it, to which many village people contributed

Birds, Lilies, And Me

Therefore I say to you, do not worry about your life. —Luke 12:22

In the episodes of an old television show, the veteran police lieutenant always said this to the young officers on their way out to the street for their day's assignments:

"Be careful out there!"

It was both good advice and a word of compassion because he knew what could happen to them in the line of duty.

Jesus gave His followers a similar warning, but in even stronger terms.

Luke 11 ends ominously with these words:

"The scribes and the Pharisees began to assail Him vehemently and to cross-examine Him about many things" (v.53).

In the continuation of this account, Luke says that Jesus compassionately instructed His disciples to "beware" (12:1) but not to worry or be afraid (vv.4-7,22).

Jesus was promising to guard, protect, and care for them as they went out into the world.

He assured them that because He cared for simple things like birds and lilies, they could be certain that He would take care of His "little flock" of believers (vv.24-32).

We cannot know the future.

But we can know this:

No matter what comes, we are under the loving, caring, watchful eye of our great Shepherd, who also happens to be the Son of God!

I am moving on to pastures new, I am going to take up a ministry in the West Midlands, so this is my last Minister's musing. I hope some of the musings I have shared with you all, have been worth reading; I now leave you all with the blessing of 'God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit' and wish you all the love of Christ Jesus in your lives.

REV Paul
Methodist Minister

Thursdays – A time of Prayer for Revival at 2.00pm

A team of 'Gideons' were distributing Bibles in the schools in the Philippines. On the last day, in the last school, in the last classroom, on entering they gave a Bible to the teacher. They were invited to speak to the children and when they had finished speaking they gave each child a Bible. They did not expect what was about to happen. The young teacher named Paulo stood up and said to the children, with great passion in his voice – "We will treasure this book!" He continued – "Class, you must bring this book to class every day. We will read it for 10 to 15 minutes every day". He then looked the Gideon straight in the eye – "I promise you that we will read this book every day." During their visit to the Philippines, 1,630,23 copies of God's word were distributed.

In the Bible, Timothy writes – "All scripture is inspired by God and is useful to teach us what is true and make us realise what is wrong with our lives. It corrects us when we are wrong and teaches us to do what is right" 2 Timothy 3 v.16 NLT. Please pray that our schools would be excited when the children are offered Bibles.

District Councillor Report

PLANNING

The South Gloucestershire Council Core Strategy

The Examination in Public is currently taking place; this is where the areas for development in South Gloucestershire are debated – round table style – with the Planning Inspector. You are able to look at helpful updates and reports of the days discussions on www.southglos.gov.uk from the link on the front page.

I hope to organise a meeting for those interested in Neighbourhood Planning in the ward later in September. If you are interested please let me know.

HOSPITALS & HEALTH

A review of Bristol Hospital services (UH Bristol & NBT, Southmead & Frenchay) is currently taking place, this is investigating on how the hospitals in the area can work together to provide improved services for people; an announcement expected at end of July

The responsibility of Public Health is returning to the Local Authority. This will include health promotion, improvement and protection. The Local Authority has been promoting health walking, exercise on prescription and smoking cessation for many years, but this will now include many other health areas, including developing the Joint Strategic Needs Assessment – looking at the health needs of our area. The final report on the Winterbourne View Hospital is to be published in early August.

TRANSPORT

Government investment in transport

The West of England (former Avon area) was awarded £24million to work with employers, schools, colleges and universities to encourage people to try a different way of getting about. £9m is to be spent directly in South Gloucestershire, looking at improving public transport routes to work and school, targeting those who are moving house, starting work or college.

YOUR VIEWS ON YATE

For those interested there is a consultation on Yate Shopping Centre – put your views forward through the South Gloucestershire Council website.

BROADBAND UPDATE

Secrecy shrouds the procurement for a faster (& hopefully more reliable) Broadband for our area. Two telecom companies have been given the green light to compete for the project. The broadband project is being led by Wiltshire Council; South Gloucestershire Council is investing £2.2m in the district's broadband provision alongside the £710,000 of government funding.

CONSULTATION ON REGISTRATION SERVICES

The Council is currently consulting on the Registration Services (Births, Deaths & Marriages). You can currently register these at Poole Court, Yate, however the proposal is to cut this local service. You may wish to comment on this, and can do via the www.southglos.gov.uk – following the Your Say title.

Please don't hesitate to get in touch if you need any further information or help.

Lasting Power of Attorney

Why do you need power of attorney? Everyone knows you should write a will to make sure your loved ones are provided for when you die, but what happens if you are left mentally unable to make decisions because of accident or illness? If you haven't got power of attorney specifying who can look after your affairs you'll have to go through the Court of Protection. The court was set up to protect the assets of vulnerable people.

Did you know that even joint bank or building society accounts can be frozen if one of the account holders lacks capacity and there is no LPA in place.
